INTRODUCTION

GENERAL BACKGROUND AND HISTORY

The economic censuses constitute comprehensive and periodic canvasses of the Nation's industrial and business activities. Taken by the Census Bureau, a part of the U.S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration, the censuses provide a detailed statistical profile of a large segment of the national economy.

The first economic census of the United States was conducted as part of the 1810 decennial census, when inquiries on manufacturing were included with the census of population. All other decennial censuses through 1900, except in 1830, contained questions on manufacturing. In 1904 the quinquennial census of manufacturing was begun. This census was conducted every 5 years until 1920 and every second year from 1921 to 1939.

Although limited distributive trade data were collected in the decennial census of 1840, the first census of business was taken in 1929. This included only retail and wholesale trades, but beginning with the second business census in 1933 and in succeeding censuses, various services also have been included. Business censuses were subsequently taken for 1935 and 1939 and, after a wartime interruption, resumed in 1948. Beginning in 1954, and continuing in the censuses of 1958, 1963, and 1967, the business census has been conducted concurrently with the censuses of manufactures and mineral industries. Beginning with the 1967 censuses, Congress authorized the economic censuses to be taken at 5-year intervals covering years ending in "2" and "7."

PURPOSE AND USES

The economic censuses are the primary source of facts about the structure and functioning of the economy and, therefore, provide information essential for both government and business. These censuses furnish an important part of the framework for such composite measures as the national accounts. In forecasting and planning, it is especially useful to analyze the national product in terms of the transactions that determine its size and composition. The economic censuses also provide weights and serve as benchmarks for indexes of industrial production, productivity, and price, all of which are essential for understanding current economic developments.

There is widespread use of the economic censuses by manufacturers and distributors who need to establish measures of their potential markets in terms of areas, kinds of businesses, and kinds of products; and by management in various industries and trades which need facts for purposes of economic or sales forecasting, analysis of sales performance, layout of sales territories, allocation of advertising budgets, and location of plants, warehouses, and stores. For these business purposes, census facts are invaluable. Census statistics also provide insight into changes in the structure of industry, information needed by trade organizations. The geographic detail describing the patterns of economic change in individual communities is valuable to State and local governments as well as to other local business organizations and research groups.

Following every census, reports are purchased by thousands of businesses and other users; likewise, census facts are widely disseminated by trade associations, business journals, and the daily press. Volumes containing census statistics are available in most major public and college libraries. Descriptions of the various publications from the 1972 Census of Selected Service Industries may be found on the inside back cover of this report.

AUTHORITY AND SCOPE

The economic censuses are required by law under Title 13 of the United States Code, sections 131, 191, and 224, which direct that they be taken at 5-year intervals. The 1972 Economic Censuses covered manufacturing; mining and quarrying; construction industries; retail trade; wholesale trade; selected service industries; arrangement of passenger transportation (including travel agencies); truck and bus carriers not subject to economic regulation by the Interstate Commerce Commission; and public warehousing.

CENSUS DISCLOSURE RULES

In accordance with Federal law governing census reports, any data which would disclose the operations of an individual establishment or business organization are not published. However, the number of establishments in a kind of business is not considered a disclosure; therefore, this item may appear in instances where other items of information for the same kind of business or locality are withheld.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF THE CENSUS

For the 1972 Census of Selected Service Industries, large and medium size firms, plus all firms known to operate more than one establishment, were sent questionnaires to be completed and returned to the Bureau by mail. For most very small firms, including those with no paid employees, data from existing records of the Internal Revenue Service and the Social Security Administration were used in lieu of direct collection by the Bureau. Basic information concerning location, kind of business, volume of receipts and payrolls, and number of employees, was thus obtained for all firms by means of this combination of sources. In addition, the firms that were sent questionnaires were asked specific additional questions tailored to the particular kind of business.

Appendix A gives a more detailed explanation of census coverage and methodology.

CORRECTIONS TO DATA

Some of the data in this report comprise the statistical portions of previously published reports. Corrections made after the final publications were issued have been carried to specific areas in this report only if they significantly affect the data for such areas. As a result, the detail in some tables may not add to totals.

APPENDIX A. General Explanation

CENSUS COVERAGE AND METHODOLOGY

Structure and Method of Enumeration of the 1972 Census of Selected Service Industries—General—Firms in the 1972 Census of Selected Service Industries were divided into two categories—the “mail universe” and the “nonmail universe.” The coverage of each component and the method of obtaining census information from each group are described below.

1. The “Nonmail Universe”—This group consists of firms which were not required to file a regular census return and includes the following categories:

a. All nonemployers—This category consists of all firms with no paid employees during 1972. Receipts data for these firms were obtained from 1972 Federal income tax records. Although consisting of a large number of firms, the nonemployer segment accounts for less than 10 percent of total receipts of all establishments covered in this census.

The census included only those service nonemployer firms which reported a receipts volume of $1,000 or more during 1972 plus firms in operation for less than the full year with reported receipts which, if projected to an annual basis, would have reached a total of $1,000 or more. This treatment is the same as in the 1967 census.

b. Selected “small employers”—“Employers” consist of all business firms with paid employees as shown in the active records of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) which were subject to payment of Federal Insurance Contribution Act (FICA) taxes. “Small employers” consist basically of all those single establishment firms with payroll below a specified cutoff. Although the cutoff varied by kind of business, this segment generally included firms with one to three employees and represented somewhat more than 10 percent of total receipts of establishments covered.

Data on receipts, payroll, and employment for “under cutoff” employer firms were generally obtained from the records of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and the Social Security Administration (SSA). For some kinds of business, however, the need for specialized data precluded reliance solely on these administrative records sources. For some of these classifications involving large numbers of firms, a 10-percent sample was included in the “mail universe.” For those involving relatively small numbers, all were included in the “mail universe.”

2. The “Mail Universe”—Information for firms in this group was obtained basically by means of a mail canvass. The “mail universe” includes the following categories:

a. “Large employers”—This category comprises all employer firms above the size cutoff referred to in section

1 b above. Within this category, a pre-census mail canvass operation was conducted in order to identify firms which operated establishments at more than one location and to obtain information on mid-March 1972 employment at each location for use as a coverage check in the census. Firms included in the pre-census mailing were drawn primarily from 1967 census records of multiunit firms and other large employers.

b. “Small employers”—This category consists of small firms in classifications for which specialized data requirements precluded reliance solely on administrative records sources (see section 1 b above).

Structure and Method of Enumeration of the 1972 Census of Selected Service Industries—Specific.

1. Hotels, Motels, Trailing Parks, and Camps (chapter 2)—For firms covered in this chapter, all employer firms were included in the “mail universe.” The “nonmail universe” consisted only of nonemployers (see section 1a, All nonemployers, above). Data for nonemployer firms, for which specialized industry data were not obtained, are included only in table 1 of this chapter. Nonemployer firms account for about 42 percent of all establishments, but only about 4 percent of total receipts of the industries covered in this chapter.

2. Motion Picture Industry (chapter 3)—For firms covered in this chapter, all employer firms were included in the “mail universe.” The “nonmail universe” consisted only of nonemployers (see section 1a, All nonemployers, above). Data for nonemployer firms, for which specialized industry data were not obtained, are included only in table 1 of this chapter. Nonemployer firms account for about 23 percent of all establishments, but only about 2 percent of total receipts of the industries covered in this chapter.

3. Legal Services (chapter 4)—For firms covered in this chapter, all large and selected small employer firms were included in the “mail universe.” The “nonmail universe” consisted of nonemployers and the remainder of the small employers (see section 1, The “Nonmail Universe,” above). Data for nonemployer firms, for which specialized industry data were not obtained, are included only in table 1a of this chapter. Nonemployer firms account for about 47 percent of all legal services establishments covered in this chapter, but only about 11 percent of the total receipts of these establishments.

4. Architectural, Engineering, and Land—Surveying Services (chapter 5)—For firms covered in this chapter, all employer firms were included in the “mail universe.” The “nonmail universe” consisted only of nonemployers (see section 1a, All nonemployers, above). Data for nonemployer firms, for which specialized industry data were not obtained, are included only in table 1 of this chapter. Nonemployer firms account for about 55 percent of all establishments, but only about 5 percent of total receipts of the industries covered in this chapter.

5. Arrangement of Passenger Transportation (chapter 6)—For firms covered in this chapter, all employer firms were included in the “mail universe.” The “nonmail universe” consisted only of nonemployers (see section 1a, All nonemployers, above). Data for nonemployer firms, for which specialized industry data were not obtained, are included only in tables 1 and 4 of this chapter. Nonemployer firms account for about 19 percent of all establishments, but only about 4 percent of total receipts of the industries covered in this chapter.
6. Nonregulated Motor Carriers and Public Warehousing (chapter 7)—For firms covered in this chapter, except those indicated in the following paragraph, all employer firms were included in the “mail universe.” Data were not compiled for nonemployer firms.

The “mail universe” for industries classified in SIC 4212 (Local trucking, without storage) and SIC 4213 (Trucking, except local) consisted of all large employers (see section 2a, “Large employers,” above) and a 10-percent sample of small employers (with payroll below a specified cutoff, as described in section 1b, Selected “small employers,” above). The “nonmail universe” consisted of the remaining small employer firms. All data for these firms were generated from the weighted sample included in the mail universe.

7. Miscellaneous Subjects (chapter 8)—For firms covered in this chapter, except those indicated in the following paragraph, all employer firms were included in the “mail universe.” The “nonmail universe” consisted only of nonemployers (see section 1a, All nonemployers, above).

The “mail universe” for industries classified in “Funeral service and crematories” (SIC 726), “Automotive repair shops” (SIC 753), except “Tire retreading and repair shops” (SIC 7534), and “Legal services” (SIC 81) consisted of all large employers (see section 2a, “Large employers,” above) and a 10-percent sample of small employers (with payroll below a specified cutoff, as described in section 1b, Selected “small employers,” above). All other establishments were included in the “nonmail universe.”

Data for nonemployer firms, for which specialized industry data were not obtained are included only in table 1 of this chapter. Nonemployer firms account for about 57 percent of all selected service establishments, but only about 9 percent of total receipts of these establishments.

Method of Classifying Kinds of Business—Classifications for all establishments covered in this census were based on the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual.¹ However, the method of assigning these classifications, and the level of detail at which establishments were classified, differed as follows:

1. The “Nonmail Universe”:

- a. Nonemployer firms—Nonemployer firms were classified on the basis of information supplied on the Federal income tax returns. These nonemployer firms were coded in less detail than employer firms. Therefore, the combined data for all establishments (nonemployer firms plus establishments of employer firms) are presented in less kind-of-business detail than data for employer establishments alone.

- b. Selected “small employers”—The 1972 census classification for the “small employer” firms which were not mailed a census report form (see section 1b, p. A1, above) was based on the 1967 census kind-of-business classification. If the firm was not in business in 1967, the SSA classification was used. If the SSA classification was not available or was inadequate for coding, the IRS classification based on the firm’s description of its principal business activity as entered on its IRS business tax return was used.

If the previous census, SSA, and IRS classifications all proved inadequate (i.e., none corresponded to a 1972 census classification in the detail required for employers), the firm was sent a brief inquiry requesting information necessary in order to assign a 1972 census kind-of-business code.

2. The “Mail Universe”—The 1972 census classification for establishments in the “mail universe” (section 2, The “Mail Universe,” on p. A1), which provided answers to special inquiries included on the census questionnaire, was assigned on the basis of these answers. The classification of all others in the “mail universe” was assigned on the same basis as for the “nonmail small employers” (section 1b on page A1).

Comparability of the 1967 and 1972 Censuses—The 1967 and 1972 censuses were conducted under similar conditions and procedures. However, strict comparability of the data for the two censuses is limited by the following factors:

1. Classification—In both 1967 and 1972, classifications were based on the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual; however, there were major revisions to the SIC structure in 1972 which limit the comparability of data between these two censuses. The kinds of business involving the most significant changes are those in the new computer and data processing services (SIC 737) category.

These changes are described in detail in the "Kind-of-Business Classifications" section below.

The arrangement of passenger transportation industry, which was included as part of SIC 4721, Arrangement of [passenger, freight, and cargo] transportation in the 1967 classification, was classified exclusively in SIC 4722 in the 1972 manual. Data shown in chapter 6 of this publication and in the 1967 census covered only the arrangement of passenger transportation industry. This coding change was the only revision to the SIC structure for this industry in 1972 and does not limit the comparability of data between the two censuses. However, the 1967 report presented no comparable data for the detailed kinds of business shown in 1972. (See "Kind-of-Business Classifications" below.)

2. Areas—The boundaries of a number of areas for which data are shown in the 1972 census are not the same as in the 1967 census because of annexations, other boundary changes, and redefinitions of SMSA's which occurred since 1967. In addition, not all areas which qualified for presentation of separate data in one of the census years qualified or existed in both census years.
3. Proprietors of Unincorporated Businesses—The number of proprietors of unincorporated businesses, shown in the 1967 census publications, is not shown for 1972. This number was not directly available in either census year from the census report form or from the records of the Internal Revenue Service. It was calculated for 1967 by crediting each proprietorship with one proprietor and each partnership with two proprietors. Since this method of calculation does not provide the actual number of proprietors and is, therefore, potentially misleading, this item has been replaced for 1972 by the presentation of data on the number of proprietorships and partnerships. These statistics are presented to provide the user with a basis for developing data comparable to those presented in 1967 on "number of proprietors." The method used in determining the legal form of organization and the limitations involved are described in the following section.
4. Legal Form of Organization—In 1967 the legal form of organization was determined for establishments in the "mail universe" on the basis of the response to the legal form of organization inquiry on the census forms. The legal form of organization of "nonmail" establishments was generally based on the type of IRS business income tax return form filed (e.g., businesses filing a partnership Federal tax return Form 1065 were assumed to be a partnership).

In the 1972 census, the legal form of organization was based on data reported directly in the census only for establishments of large multiestablishment companies

(those with total company employment of 250 persons or more). A company summary report, submitted by these large firms, included an inquiry on legal form of organization. The legal form of organization of all other establishments was generally based on the type of IRS business income tax return form filed.

In the 1967 census, "small employers" in the "nonmail universe" were assumed to be sole proprietorships if no IRS business tax return was located in the IRS files. In the 1972 census, since the legal form of organization of most large and small establishments was based on the type of IRS form, no such assumption was made. Consequently, it was necessary to establish a classification covering establishments for which the legal form of organization was unknown. This classification includes establishments of organizations not required to file IRS business tax returns (e.g., certain nonprofit organizations) plus proprietorships, partnerships, and corporations for which a 1972 tax return could not be located in the IRS file, and for which identification of the type of tax return required was not available from IRS records from previous years.²

In some tables of this publication, data are presented for the following legal-form-of-organization categories:

- a. Individual proprietorships.
- b. Partnerships.
- c. Corporations (including non-tax-exempt cooperatives).
- d. Other legal form, or legal form unknown (for appropriate kind-of-business classifications, tax-exempt cooperatives will be presented separately).

Data presented for "partnerships" in "Legal Services" (chapter 4) include establishments owned by two or more persons each of whom has a financial interest in the establishment. In addition to these establishments, such data presented in the comparable 1967 census report (tabulated on a "firm" basis) included corporations and other legal forms except sole practitioners. Data for "Legal Services" in the 1972 census publication are presented separately for "professional service organizations" and "other or legal form unknown."

Data presented for professional service organizations and corporations in "Architectural, Engineering, and Land-Surveying Services" (chapter 5), as defined in the "Explanation of Terms" section below, were not presented separately in the comparable 1967 report but were combined with data presented for legal forms other than individual proprietorships and partnerships.

² These firms for which the legal form of organization could not be determined account in total for about 9 percent of all establishments and about 7 percent of total sales and receipts in the United States as a whole. These percentages, however, may vary considerably by geographic area and kind-of-business classification.

5. Establishment Versus Firm—Data in "Legal Services" (chapter 4) are presented on an "establishment" basis, as defined in the "Explanation of Terms" section below. Those in the comparable 1967 census report were presented on a "firm" basis, where a firm consisted of one or more establishments.

Data in "Architectural, Engineering, and Land-Surveying Services" (chapter 5) are presented on both "establishment" and "firm" bases, as defined in the "Explanation of Terms" section below. Those in the comparable 1967 census report were presented only on a "firm" basis.

Data in "Arrangement of Passenger Transportation" (chapter 6) are presented on both "establishment" and "firm" bases, as defined in the "Explanation of Terms" section below. Those in the comparable 1967 census report were presented only on a "firm" basis, where such firms were referred to as "agencies."

Data in "Nonregulated Motor Carriers and Public Warehousing" (chapter 7) are presented on an "establishment" basis, as defined in the "Explanation of Terms" section below. Truck and bus carriers in the 1967 census report were presented on a "firm" or "carrier" basis, where a firm consisted of one or more establishments.

Treatment of Nonresponse—Census report forms included two distinctly different types of inquiries, "basic" and "special." Basic (general) inquiries, which included location, kind of business, receipts, payroll, and number of employees, were available from a combination of sources for all establishments. (See "General Description of Census" in the Introduction.) Special inquiries, tailored to the particular kinds of business covered by the report, were available only from establishments in the "mail universe" which completed the appropriate inquiries on the questionnaire.

Data for special inquiries in this series of reports have been expanded in most tables to account for establishments which did not respond to the particular inquiry for which data are presented. Unless otherwise noted in the specific table, data for these special inquiries have been expanded in direct relationship to total receipts; i.e., it is assumed that the characteristics of establishments not responding to the particular special inquiry are the same as establishments with equal receipts in the same category (publication table line) which did respond to the inquiry. In a few tables in this series, expansion on the basis of total receipts was not appropriate, and another basic data item was used as the basis for expansion of reported data to account for nonrespondents.

All tables in which data are expanded to account for nonrespondents include a "coverage" indicator for each publication category which shows the receipts (and number) of establishments responding to the special inquiry as a percent of total receipts (and number) of all establishments for which data are shown.

In some tables, it was determined that reliable data would not be provided on the basis of expansion of data for respondents to include estimates for nonrespondents. This was generally true for tables presenting data for small geographic areas or for other detailed classifications resulting in small numbers of establishments. It was also true of tables for certain kinds of business for which the data were known to be highly erratic. Data for such tables are presented on an "as reported" basis; however, in such tables number of establishments and receipts are shown both for (1) all establishments and (2) those establishments responding to the special inquiry. This may provide the user with a basis for estimating the totals applicable to all establishments.

EXPLANATION OF TABLES IN CHAPTER 1, ESTABLISHMENT AND FIRM SIZE

The tables in this chapter are divided into three categories—size of establishment, size of firm, and legal form of organization as follows:

1. Size of Establishment—Only establishments which operated the entire year have been classified into the various size groupings used in the establishment-size tables (tables 1a and 1b). An establishment is classified as "operated entire year" if it operated 10 months or more during the year and was in operation at the end of the year. Seasonal establishments, which normally operate for only a part of the year, are treated as "entire year" or "not entire year" on the basis of the length of time that the establishment was owned rather than the length of time it was open for business during the census year.
 - a. Receipts size—Data in table 1a are classified into nine receipts-size groups depending on the value of receipts reported for the year 1972. As the class intervals in this table indicate, establishments were classified by receipts-size groups after the reported receipts figures had been rounded to the nearest thousand dollars.
 - b. Employment size—Data in table 1b are classified into 12 employment-size groups depending on the number of employees on the payroll during the pay period including March 12, 1972. Proprietors and unpaid family workers were not regarded as employees in determining the employment size of an establishment.
2. Size of Firm—A firm may be either a single-establishment firm (single unit) or a multiestablishment firm (multiunit). Firm-size groups are based on aggregate data for all establishments operated by the same firm in the kind-of-business classification, group, or total for which data are presented.

For example, a firm operates three service establishments—a motel, a drive-in motion picture theatre, and an amusement park. At the most detailed level of classification, each of the establishments is a "single unit operated by a multi-establishment firm". At the amusement and recreation services level, it is a "2-establishment multiunit". For selected services, total, it is a "3-establishment multiunit". In 1967, the only firm-size data published were the "Single Units and Multiunits" data included as part of Selected Services Special Report, Establishment and Firm Size, (BC67(S)SS1). In 1972, data are presented based on receipts size of firm and on concentration by major firms as well as for single units and multiunits (by number of establishments operated).

- a. Single units and multiunits—Data in table 2a are classified into seven firm-size groups based on the number of establishments operated December 31, 1972. A single unit is a firm with only one establishment engaged in economic activities. A multiunit, or a multi-establishment firm, is a firm with two or more establishments engaged in economic activities. A multiestablishment firm may, however, operate only one establishment classified in selected service industries.
- b. Receipts size—Data in table 2b are classified into twelve receipts-size groups depending on the value of receipts reported for the year 1972. As the class intervals in this table indicate, firms were classified by receipts-size groups after the reported receipts figures had been rounded to the nearest thousand dollars for individual establishments.
- c. Concentration of major firms—Data in table 2c are presented separately for the 4, 8, 20, and 50 largest firms based on total receipts.
3. Legal Form of Organization—Data in table 3 represent a summary for individual establishments rather than firms. In this regard, this table is similar to tables 1a and 1b. For an explanation of the method used to assign "legal form", see "Legal Form of Organization" (section 4) under "Comparability of the 1967 and 1972 Censuses."

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

GENERAL

Central Administrative Offices and Auxiliaries—Each company included in this census was asked to identify and report separately as "central administrative offices" or "auxiliaries" those locations whose primary functions were to manage, administer, service, or support the activities of the other establishments of the company. Data for such central administrative offices and auxiliaries which primarily support the establishments covered in this census are presented in a separate table in chapter 8 of this publication.

Establishments—An establishment is a single physical location at which business is conducted. An establishment is not necessarily identical with the company or enterprise which may consist of one or more establishments. Census of selected service industries figures represent a summary of reports for individual establishments rather than companies. Separate information was obtained for each location where business was conducted. Each report was tabulated in accordance with the physical location at which the business was conducted. The count of establishments in this report represents the number in business at the end of the year.

Where two or more activities were carried on at a single location under a single ownership, all activities generally were grouped together as a single establishment, and the entire establishment was classified on the basis of its major activity, with all data for it included in that classification. In those cases, however, where distinct and separate economic activities (for which different industry classification codes were appropriate) were conducted under the same ownership at a single location, and where conditions prescribed by the SIC manual for recognizing the existence of more than one establishment were met, separate establishment reports for each of the different activities were obtained in the census. Collecting and distributing units (branch outlets and pickup stations) owned and operated by power laundries and dry-cleaning plants are not treated as separate establishments. (See "Kind-of-Business Classifications" section below.)

Leased service departments (separately owned businesses operated as departments or concessions of another service establishment or of a retail business under another ownership, such as a separately owned shoeshine parlor in a barber shop or a beauty salon in a department store) are treated as separate service establishments for census purposes. Leased retail departments located in service establishments (e.g., a gift shop located in a hotel) are considered separate retail establishments.

Firms—A firm is a business organization consisting of one or more (domestic) establishments under common ownership or control within each kind-of-business classification for which data are presented. All establishments of subsidiary firms are included as part of the owning or controlling firm. The terms "firm" and "company" are synonymous.

Paid Employees for Week Including March 12, 1972—Paid employees consist of the number of employees, including salaried officers and executives of corporations, who were on the payroll in the pay period including March 12, 1972. Included are employees on paid sick leave, paid holidays, and paid vacations. Proprietors and partners of unincorporated businesses are not included. The definition of paid employees is the same as used in reporting on IRS Form 941.

Payroll, Entire Year—Payroll includes all forms of compensation, such as salaries, wages, commissions, bonuses, vacation allowances, sick leave pay, and the value of payments in kind (such as free meals and lodgings) paid during the year to all employees. Tips and gratuities received by employees from patrons and reported to employers are included. For corporations, it includes amounts paid to officers and executives; for unincorporated businesses, it does not include profit nor other compensation of proprietors or partners. Payroll is reported before deductions for social security, income tax, insurance, union dues, etc. This definition of payroll is the same as that used by the Internal Revenue Service for purposes of reporting on Form 941.

Payroll, First Quarter 1972—This item consists of payroll, as defined above, paid to persons employed at any time during the January to March 1972 quarter.

Receipts—Receipts include the total receipts from customers for services rendered and merchandise sold during 1972 whether or not payment was received in 1972. Receipts are net after deductions for refunds and allowances for merchandise returned by customers. Receipts also include local and State sales taxes and Federal excise taxes collected by the establishment directly from customers and paid directly by the establishment to a local, State, or Federal tax agency. Gasoline, liquor, tobacco, and other excise taxes, which are paid by the manufacturer or wholesaler and passed along to the retailer, are also included. Total receipts do not include non-operating income from such sources as investments, rental of real estate, etc.

Receipts in this publication do not include service receipts of manufacturers, wholesalers, retail establishments, nor other businesses whose primary activity is other than service. They do, however, include receipts other than from services rendered (e.g., sale of merchandise to individuals or other businesses) by establishments primarily engaged in performing services covered by this census.

Although the count of establishments in this publication represents the number in business at the end of the year, the receipts figures include receipts of all establishments in business at any time during the year.

Receipts Size—Establishments and firms are classified by size based on volume of receipts in 1972. For the tables in this report, receipts figures were rounded to thousands of dollars before assignment of establishments or firms to the appropriate size classifications.

Standard Consolidated Areas—In view of the special importance of the metropolitan complexes around New York and Chicago, the Nation's two largest cities, several standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's) have been combined into the New York-Northeastern New Jersey and the Chicago-Northwestern Indiana Standard Consolidated Areas (SCA's).

Definitions of all the SMSA's and the two SCA's are provided in appendix E.

Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas—The standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's) for which data are shown are those defined by the Office of Management and Budget.³ A standard metropolitan statistical area is a county or group of contiguous counties (except in New England) which contains at least one central city of 50,000 inhabitants or more, or "twin cities" with a combined population of at least 50,000. In addition to the county or counties containing such a city or cities, contiguous counties are included in an SMSA if, according to certain criteria, they are essentially metropolitan in character and are socially and economically integrated with the central city. In New England, towns and cities rather than counties are the units used in defining an SMSA.

HOTELS, MOTELS, TRAILERING PARKS, CAMPS (CHAPTER 2)

Franchise or Co-Ownership Groups—These are groups of motels and motor hotels which indicated membership in a franchise or co-ownership group carrying a common name. Establishments in such groups include those operated by the franchiser and those under joint ownership with a "co-ownership" group sponsor as well as those operated by independently owned franchisees. Motels and motor hotels which are only members of nonfranchise referral organizations are not included.

Guestrooms (Hotels)—Guestrooms consist of the number of rooms that can be rented as separate units. In tables which present data for both hotels and motels, this term, when associated with motels, motor hotels, or tourist courts, refers to "rental units" (see explanation below). Suites of rooms which cannot be subdivided are counted as a single unit. The number of guestrooms was tabulated only for establishments in operation at the end of the year.

Transient guestrooms consist of the number of units usually available for the occupancy of persons staying less than one month.

Residential guestrooms consist of the number of units usually available for the occupancy of persons staying a month or longer.

³ Definitions established as of August 15, 1973, by the Executive Office of the President, Office of Management and Budget.

Percentage of Occupancy—This item, as provided by the respondent on the questionnaire, was utilized in the computation of data on "weighted average percentage of occupancy" presented in some tables of this report. The instructions for reporting this item were as follows:

1. Multiply the number of guestrooms in your hotel by 366. If you operated less than a full year, use the number of days you actually operated instead of 366.
2. Determine the number of rooms which were occupied each day that you operated. Total these figures for all days operated.
3. Your percentage of occupancy is the number you get in step 2 divided by the number you get in step 1.

If records are not available as a basis for computing percentage of occupancy, your best estimate will be acceptable.

Period Started—This is the period in which the establishment commenced operation as a hotel or motel. It is not necessarily the period in which the present owner or operator took over operation of the establishment.

Rental Units (Motels, Motor Hotels, and Tourist Courts)—Rental units consist of rooms, apartments, cabin units, and other types of lodging accommodations normally rented as a single unit. The number of rental units was tabulated only for establishments in operation at the end of the year.

Weighted Average Percentage of Occupancy—This item is derived by computing daily average number of guestrooms occupied during the year (total guestrooms for each establishment multiplied by its percentage of occupancy) and dividing the sum of the daily averages by the total number of guest rooms in the group under consideration.

Example:

Establishment in the area	Number of guest- rooms reported	Annual per- centage of occupancy reported	Average number of rooms occupied during the year (col. 1 x col. 2)
	1	2	3
Hotel A	250	80	200
Hotel B	200	70	140
Hotel C	170	60	102
Hotel D	120	90	108
	740		550

The weighted average percentage of occupancy for this group of hotels is 76 (550 divided by 740).

Establishments in business less than a full year are fractionally weighted in this computation (e.g., if hotel B had been in operation for only 6 months of 1972, the value in column 1 would have been reduced to 100, the value in column 3 to 70).

MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY (CHAPTER 3)

Motion Picture Theaters

2. Drive-In Theater Capacity—Represents the maximum number of viewing spaces available to motor vehicles.

 - b. Admission charge per carload—Represents the total number of motor vehicles admitted to drive-in theaters upon payment of an admission fee on a charge-per-carload basis.

Period First Operated—Represents the period in which the establishment commenced operation as a motion picture theater. It does not necessarily mean the period in which the present operator took over a particular theater.

Earnings from films which are distributed by film exchanges, whether independent or producer-owned, are not included in receipts of motion picture and tape producers. To avoid duplication within the industry, such receipts are included in data shown for "Motion picture film exchanges" in table 7 of this report. Likewise, receipts from contract production for other motion picture producers are excluded.

Motion Picture Distribution

Operating Expenses—Consists of payments to other film exchanges and producers (United States and foreign companies) for their share of film rentals; and all other U.S. operating expenses allocable to distribution, including payroll, rerun rights, advertising, administrative, occupancy rentals, and other overhead.

LEGAL SERVICES (CHAPTER 4)

Associate Lawyers—These are lawyers employed by legal service establishments, and include all lawyer "members" of professional corporations. Sole practitioners and partners are excluded.

Establishments—Establishments do not include law offices or associations operated as a service to individual lawyers engaged in a "group practice," organized for the purpose of sharing expenses. Members of such associations, or groups, are included within separate establishments. Associations taxed as partnerships are treated as partnership firms.

Salaries or payments to sole practitioners and partners and income taxes are not included.

Primary Fields of Practice—Establishments reporting this item included each individual lawyer (associate lawyer, sole practitioner, and partner) in the category which best described his primary field of specialization. If not primarily engaged in a single specialized field, a lawyer was classified as engaged in general practice.

⁴ For all selected service industries in the United States, those firms for which legal form of organization could not be determined account in total for about 9 percent of all establishments and about 7 percent of total receipts. These percentages, however, may vary by geographic area and kind-of-business classification.

Tables in the 1967 census report covering "nature of practice" presented data on specialized fields or general practice of law firms as a whole rather than on individual lawyers as shown in this report.

Receipts—Includes amounts received from the practice of law and other sources such as commissions for the management or sale of real estate, insurance, etc. Income from investments, rental of real estate, sales of fixed assets, and other nonoperating income are excluded.

Although the count of establishments in this report represents the number in business at the end of the year, the receipts figures include receipts of all establishments in business at any time during the year.

ARCHITECTURAL, ENGINEERING, AND LAND-SURVEYING SERVICES (CHAPTER 5)

Employment Size—Firms are classified by size according to the number of paid employees (including part-time employees) for the pay period including March 12, 1972. Proprietors and partners, even though they may have been actively engaged in the operation of the firm, are not counted as paid employees in determining employment size, nor is their compensation included in payroll.

Receipts—Total receipts consist of amounts received for architectural, engineering, land surveying, and other services and sales by establishments primarily engaged in these industries. Receipts do not include amounts received for such services provided by construction and manufacturing firms and other businesses whose primary activity is other than providing these services. Total receipts also exclude income from investments, rental of real estate, sale of fixed assets, and other nonoperating receipts.

Receipts for architectural, engineering, and land-surveying services performed "in-house" by the establishment include fees for feasibility, economic, and other studies; reports; consulting and design services; specifications; professional technical recommendations; and all other architectural, engineering, and survey work done in 1972 whether or not payments were received in 1972. Receipts for those services not performed "in-house" by the establishment (reimbursables) include payments made to those actually performing such work. Receipts for management consulting, other than consulting and design engineering services, are included in the data presented for "all other sources."

Although the count of firms in this report represents the number in business at the end of the year, the receipts figures include receipts of all firms in business at any time during the year.

Receipts Size of Firm—Firms are classified by size based on volume of receipts in 1972. For the tables in this report, receipts figures were rounded to thousands of dollars before assignment of firms to the appropriate size classifications.

For tour operators, receipts also include the difference between operational costs and the selling price of tours. Amounts paid to or retained by the hotel, carrier, etc., or commissions paid to other travel agents are not included. Income from investments, rental of real estate, sale of fixed assets, etc., are also excluded.

Employment Size of Establishment—Establishments are classified by size according to the number of paid employees (including part-time employees) for the pay period including March 12, 1972. Proprietors and partners, even though they may have been actively engaged in the operation of the establishment, are not counted as paid employees in determining employment size, nor is their compensation included in payroll.

Establishments—For public warehousing, an establishment is a single physical location at which business is conducted. For bus and truck carriers, an establishment is represented by a relatively permanent office or terminal which is either directly responsible for supervising transportation activities, or the base from which personnel operate to carry out these activities. An establishment is not necessarily identical with the firm which may consist of one or more establishments. The count of establishments in this report represents the number in business at the end of the year.

Where two or more activities were carried on at a single location under a single ownership, all activities generally were grouped together as a single establishment, and the entire establishment was classified on the basis of its major activity, with all data for it included in that classification. In those cases, however, where distinct and separate economic activities (for which different industry classification codes were appropriate) were conducted under the same ownership at a single location, and where conditions prescribed by the SIC manual for recognizing the existence of more than one establishment were met, separate establishment reports for each of the different activities were obtained in the census.

Leased retail, service, or transportation departments (separately owned businesses operated as departments or concessions of a transportation establishment under another ownership, such as a separately owned gift shop, shoeshine parlor, or ticket office in a bus terminal) are treated as separate establishments for census purposes. Terminals or garages servicing a company's own vehicles are not considered separate establishments.

Operating Revenue—Includes receipts from customers, excise taxes and sales taxes, total charges for services or for the use of facilities, and merchandise sold, whether or not payment was received in 1972. Income from the sale or rental of real estate, interest, investments, and other nonoperating income are not included. Receipts reimbursed to subcontractors are included.

Although the count of establishments in this report represents the number in business at the end of the year, the operating revenue figures include revenue of all establishments in business at any time during the year.

5. Refrigerated Net Piling Space—Cubic feet of refrigerated space 50° F or below assigned to public storage of perishable commodities such as dairy products, fruits, vegetables, and meats. KIND-OF-BUSINESS CLASSIFICATIONS

Services, as defined in the 1972 edition of the SIC manual, includes establishments primarily engaged in rendering a wide variety of services to individuals and business establishments.

Establishments covered by the census were assigned kind-of-business classifications in accordance with the provisions of the 1972 edition of the SIC manual. However, because in some instances a more detailed classification is required for census purposes than is defined in the SIC manual, additional kinds of business have been identified within SIC categories.

The basis for kind-of-business classifications is described above in the sections under "Method of Classifying Kinds of Business" and "Comparability of the 1967 and 1972 Censuses." Descriptions of those kinds of business for which data are provided follow.

HOTELS, MOTELS, TRAILERING PARKS, CAMPS (SIC Major Group 70, Except 702 and 704)

This group includes establishments primarily engaged in providing lodging, or lodging and meals, to the general public except (1) rooming and boarding houses, (2) hotels which provide accommodations for "permanent" residents, and (3) tourist homes. Commercial establishments which provide camping and trailer space or camping facilities on a fee basis are included. Children's day camps, which were previously included in this group, are classified in "Amusement and recreation services, n.e.c." (SIC 7999) in 1972. Residential mobile home parks, previously classified in this major group, are included in major group 65, "Real Estate."

Hotels, Motor Hotels, and Motels (SIC 7011)—The SIC manual combines hotels and motels into a single classification, "Hotels, motels and tourist courts." In some tables of this publication, however, data are presented for the following subdivisions of this classification:

1. Hotels, 25 or More Guest Rooms.
2. Hotels, Less Than 25 Guest Rooms.
3. Motels, Tourist Courts.
4. Motor Hotels.

The classification of individual establishments into "hotels," "motor hotels," and "motels, tourist courts" was based primarily on the respondent's self-designation. "Seasonal hotels" were not separately classified as in earlier censuses.

Sporting and Recreational Camps (SIC 7032)—Commercially operated sporting or recreational camps providing lodging or lodging and meals. These include children's camps, fishing and hunting camps, and dude ranches. Camps primarily receiving their financial support from subsidies, donations, contributions, etc., are not included. Establishments not open to the general public, operated by membership organizations to provide camping facilities to members and guests, are classified in "Membership sports and recreation clubs" (SIC 7997).

Trailer Parks and Campsites for Transients (SIC 7033)—Establishments providing overnight or short-term sites for trailers, campers, or tents. Residential mobile home parks are not included.

PERSONAL SERVICES (SIC Major Group 72)

This group includes establishments primarily engaged in providing services generally involving the care of the person or his apparel, such as barber and beauty shops, dry-cleaning plants, laundries, and photographic studios. Establishments which rent coin-operated laundering machines, e.g., to apartment houses, are included under "Equipment rental and leasing services" (SIC 7394).

This classification includes the following subgroups shown separately in some tables of this publication:

1. Coin-Operated Laundries and Dry-Cleaning Stores.
2. Coin-Operated Laundry Machine Routes.

Power Laundries, Family and Commercial (SIC 7211)—Establishments primarily engaged in operating mechanical laundries with steam or other power. Data for collecting and distributing units (branch outlets and pick-up stations) owned and operated by power laundries are merged with those for the laundry which owned them and are not treated as separate establishments. Independently owned agencies for laundry plants are included in the classification "Garment pressing and agents for laundries and dry cleaners" (SIC 7212). Laundries using small power equipment of household type are included in "Other laundry and garment services" (SIC 7219). Excluded Establishments included in this industry may or may not operate their own laundry or dry-cleaning facilities.

Linen Supply (SIC 7213)—Establishments primarily engaged in supplying, on a rental basis, such laundered linens as uniforms, aprons, table covers, bed linens, and towels. Establishments included in this classification may or may not operate their own power laundry facilities.

However, beauty shops owned by another business operated as part of that other business (e.g., hotels, department stores) are not included.

APPENDIX F. Explanatory Material—Capital Expenditures and Other Financial Data

INTRODUCTION

The data in table 27 of chapter 9, Miscellaneous Subjects, have been compiled in conjunction with the 1972 Census of Selected Service Industries and are presented on selected characteristics of service establishments, including capital expenditures, fixed assets, leasing and rental payments, and supplemental labor costs. Data shown are based on information collected from a subsample of the probability sample of service establishments from the Monthly Selected Services Receipts survey. Descriptions of the survey methodology, sample design, and estimating procedures are included in the following sections.

These statistics are summarized by kind-of-business classifications based on the 1967 Standard Industrial Classification (SIC). The kind-of-business classification codes used to obtain data for this table were derived from the records used in the Monthly Selected Services Receipts survey and do not necessarily reflect the actual 1972 activity of the establishments. Data shown in this table, therefore, are not directly comparable with data presented in other reports (or other tables of this report) from the 1972 Census of Selected Service Industries. See the "Kind of Business Classification" section below for more detail.

SAMPLE DESIGN

The 1972 Service Trade survey estimates were obtained from a subsample of the probability sample used in obtaining estimates of the national monthly dollar volume of receipts for the selected service industries which are presented in the Monthly Selected Services Receipts report. The probability sample from which the subsample was drawn consists of two components:

1. A "list" sample is selected from the universe of service employers who make Social Security payments for their employees under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA). The basic sampling unit is the Employer Identification (EI) number assigned to each business employer by the Social Security Administration. The businesses represented by the selected EI numbers are divided into panels. The very largest businesses are placed on a monthly panel and the remainder are assigned to four rotating panels. The list sample was drawn from two sources.

a. The major part of the list sample was selected from the 1968 County Business Patterns (CBP) service universe (a tabulation each year of generally first-quarter payroll reported by FICA taxpayers), using kind-of-business codes derived from the quinquennial economic censuses.

b. New service employers coming into business after 1968 and, therefore, not included in the CBP universe are represented by a sample drawn from the employer births provided by the Social Security Administration. From this list sample, a subsample consisting of two of the four rotating panels and the monthly panels were used for the 1972 Service Trade Survey. Approximately 7,000 respondents were canvassed by mail and asked to report data for all service establishments reporting payroll under the selected EI number.

2. All service establishments not included in the list sample described above are represented by establishments contained in a probability sample of area land segments. The "area" sample thus includes businesses without employees¹ and employers (recent births) not yet represented in the list sample.

The area sample is two-stage. In the first stage, a sample of 58 primary sampling units (single counties or small groups of contiguous counties) was drawn with probability proportionate to population size. Each selected primary sampling unit (PSU) was then subdivided into small area land segments. In the second stage, a subsample of these area land segments was drawn in each PSU at an overall rate of 1 in 1,000 (1 in 2,000 or 1 in 3,000 in the smallest PSU's). The selected area segments are assigned to 1 of 12 rotating panels. Based on the panel assignment, a different set of segments is canvassed each month in the Monthly Selected Services Receipts survey. A subsample of these establishments using 2 of the 12 panels was selected to participate in the 1972 Service Trade survey. These establishments (approximately 900 respondents) were also canvassed by mail and requested to report data for only the establishment included in the segment.

KIND-OF-BUSINESS CLASSIFICATION

The statistics covering capital expenditures and other financial data are developed as direct measures from the subsample representing all sizes of firms and kinds of business in the selected service trades throughout the country. Service organizations included in the sample are classified in accordance with the 1967 SIC manual issued by the Office of Management and Budget for the purpose of providing a standard for the classification and representation of data by all Federal agencies. The statistics provided are based on EI number sampling units (individual establishments for the area sample component) rather than commodity or product line reporting. Each EI number is classified within a kind of business in accordance with the major service it provides.

¹ Nonemployee establishments contributed approximately 4% to total capital expenditures and gross value of fixed assets and 6% to total lease and rental payments reported in the 1972 Service Trade survey.

The major kinds of selected service industries represented in the 1972 Service Trade survey do not strictly correspond with those covered in the 1972 Census of Selected Service Industries because census classification follows the 1972 edition of the SIC manual.

RELIABILITY OF THE DATA

The sample used in the 1972 Service Trade Survey is one of a large number of possible samples of the same size that could be selected using the same sample design. Each sample could produce a different estimate, but the average of all such samples would be expected to agree with the results that would be obtained from a complete enumeration using the same procedures. The standard error of the survey estimate is a measure of the variation of the estimates from all possible samples of the same size and is thus a measure of the precision with which an estimate from a particular sample approximates the average of all possible samples. Since the estimates of sampling error are estimated from the sample, they are also subject to sampling variability.

Table 27b shows coefficients of variation associated with the estimates in table 27a. These are defined as the standard error of the estimate expressed as a percentage of the estimate. The sample estimates and their coefficients of variation permit the construction of interval estimates with prescribed confidence that the interval includes the average result of all possible samples. The chances are about two out of three that the amounts estimated in this survey would differ from the results that would be obtained from a complete enumeration using the same procedures by less than the coefficients of variation percentages shown. Use of the coefficients of variation shown in table 27b is illustrated in the following example:

The estimate of total capital expenditures for all forms of organization combined is $7,834 million and the sampling variability associated with this figure is estimated at 7 percent (.07). Multiplying $7,834 million by 0.7 yields $548 million. Therefore, the chances are roughly 2 out of 3 that a complete enumeration total would be between $7,286 million and $8,382 million (i.e., $7,834 plus and minus $548 million).

Doubling the estimate of sampling error and repeating the above computations provides an interval which would be expected to include the enumeration total 19 out of 20 times.

In the example, the chances are 19 out of 20 that the expected value lies between $6,738 million and $8,930 (i.e., $7,834 million plus and minus $1,096 million).

As calculated for this table, the coefficients of variation also partially measure the effect of nonsampling errors but do not measure any systematic biases in the data. Bias is the difference, averaged over all possible samples, between the estimate and the desired value, due to such items as nonreporting or response errors. Data for nonresponse have been imputed and are included in the published totals. Based upon dollar volume for 1972, nonresponse for all forms of organization combined approximated 6 percent for total capital expenditures, 7 percent for capital expenditures for new facilities, 6 percent for gross value of fixed assets, 7 percent for lease and rental payments, and 7 percent for supplemental labor costs. Nonresponse rates for corporations only approximate those for all forms of organization combined.

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

Capital expenditures—Capital expenditures include all costs actually incurred during 1972 (whether on contract or by employees of the firm), which are chargeable to the fixed assets accounts of the firm. Capital expenditures include outlays for new and used structures, including those under construction at the end of 1972, and expenditures for new and used machinery and equipment. Also included are major alterations, capitalized repairs, and improvements to existing facilities. Expenditures not included are land and items chargeable as current operating expense such as cost of maintenance, repairs, and supplies. The capital expenditures data summarized in this report reflect only the outlays from the operators of the establishments surveyed and exclude expenditures by owners of these properties leasing or renting the properties to others.

Gross value of fixed assets—This item covers all fixed assets on the books of the firm at the beginning and end of 1972 for which depreciation accounts are maintained. The gross value represents the actual cost of assets at the time they were acquired, including all costs incurred in making the assets usable such as transportation and installation. Included are all buildings, structures, machinery and equipment, and improvements or additions to existing facilities. Excluded are nondepreciable assets such as inventories, and intangible assets such as patent rights and goodwill. Also excluded are land and depletable assets such as timber and mineral rights.

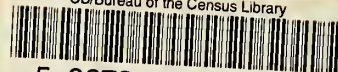

Lease and rental payments—Lease and rental payments include all payments made or accrued during 1972 to other firms which own buildings and equipment rented or leased. Included are payments for use of buildings, structures, machinery and equipment. Excluded are payments for rental or leasing of land such as ground rents.

Supplemental labor costs—This item includes both legally required and voluntary labor expenditures during 1972. Legally required labor expenditures include employer payments for all programs required under Federal and State legislation, such as Federal Old Age and Survivors' Insurance, unemployment compensation, workmen's compensation, and State temporary disability payments. Voluntary labor expenditures include those programs not specifically required by Federal or State legislation including employer payments for insurance premiums on hospital and medical plans, life insurance premiums, and premiums on supplementary accident and sickness insurance. Payments for insurance programs are net payments (gross payments less any offsetting dividends, refunds, or other reductions in premiums). Voluntary labor expenditures also include payments or allocations for all pension plans, welfare plans, stock purchase plans in which the employer payment is not subject to withholding tax, and deferred profit sharing plans.
